Revival Meetings In Tent Started Here

Nazarene tent revival meetings began yesterday afternoon on So. Glendale avenue near Broadway with Rev. Lineweaver, former district superintendent of Northern California, preaching on the need of revival from the second chapter of Joel, describing the awful conditions of people in sin and the judgment day that follows. A true repentance, he said, is needed in order that the Holy Spirit might be poured out.

In the evening Jack Sanders, business manager of Pasadena University, told how he was saved from a drunkard's life and became a successful business man, having been made a new creature through Christ Jesus.

The meetings will continue every evening at 7:30 o'clock except on Saturday. Special speakers will be present while singing will be led by H. A. Scheideman.

Adams Hat Shop wishes to announce to their many patrons that they are closing their place of business at 213 North Brand on next Saturday evening (May 20), for the coming two months and upon Mrs. Adams' return from the east she will open at a new location.—Advertisement.

FUTURE OF YOUNG PEOPLE DEPENDS ON MOTHERS

Children Will Follow in the Footsteps of Parent, Is Rev. Cole's Belief

"Mothers, your children's future depends on you," exclaimed Rev. C. A. Cole yesterday morning at the Central Christian church.

"In these days, if you live the life of faith, your children will follow after you. Young man, young woman, remember that mother of yours today. Hear the words of the wise man of old: 'My son, forsake not the laws of thy mother.' Then and then alone will the hope of the nations be sure."

"What strengthens our faith quicker and surer is the thought of 'her' faith in us. Oh, if we could only be the man, the woman, our mother thinks we are! Ah, a mother's love makes faith—love expressed in action, love expressed in confidence, love expressed in prayer."

"Maybe she is home by the old fireside now. Maybe she is in the spirit world yearning for your coming. I wish you could send her back that eloquent message: 'Tell mother I'll be there.'"

The sermon was based upon Timothy's affection for his mother.

Happiness Discussed

"The Art of Happiness" was the subject of the evening sermon.

"Being happy and contented is a grace and an art," remarked Rev. Cole. "It can be cultivated."

There is so much happiness today over the face of Christendom that I am wondering if it can not be prolonged. We find many opportunities to be happy but we miss a lot of good times. We're forever longing for something great and unusual to happen. The heart of happiness is ever to be found in your heart. The art of happiness is personal. It can't be bought with money. It doesn't come from things outside but from something inside.

"Why there's a poem on every bush and a song in every flower. All the world is a stage and each act has its comedy."

"I have had a great deal of trouble in my life—most of which never came to pass. On the day when the sun shines never mind the cloudy days. When they do come, God uses them for a blessing."

Ath Clith was an early name for Dublin, the present name meaning Black Pool.

COMING OF CHRIST SECOND TIME IS CLASS TOPIC

Signs of Arrival Are Told by Rev. K. L. Brooks In His Discussion

"The Second Coming of Christ" was the topic of discussion yesterday morning in the council room of the city hall at the Men's Class of the Presbyterian church.

This doctrine, according to Rev. Keith L. Brooks, is referred to over 1500 times in the Old Testament and 218 times in the New Testament. He said that the most ingenious schemes were being used to explain away this teaching but that, if the Bible is to be accepted as a whole, it must be accepted as a part.

"Jesus gives us a sevenfold answer outlining the progress and culmination of the present age," declared Rev. Brooks. "Before He answers, however, He gives the following warning: 'Take heed that no man deceive you.' Four times He intimates that a notable thing during this age will be the attempt to deprive Christians of the truth of His appearing."

Signs of His Coming

"The first sign of His coming is that of false Christs who come and deceive many. The second class of signs are national. Wars are to characterize the whole age and to be intensified at its close. The weapons of destruction are to become more and more hellish as civilization advances. Fighting becomes less and less a matter of valor and more and more a battle of brains. In spite of all the talk of scrapping battleships, science is going on to perfect the most deadly instruments for the destruction of life to be operated by land and sea in the heavens above and the waters beneath."

"The gospel shall be preached in all the world after which the end shall come. He does not say that all nations will accept the testimony and be saved but that all will be evangelized. Today Scriptures are being multiplied as never before."

"When Israel again begins to put forth as a nation, we may know that the Lord's coming is near at hand. The Zionist Movement is certainly the fulfillment of this prophecy."

"As in the days of Noah, the world will be in a whirl of worldliness."

"Watch, therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord cometh."

PAINTED DOLL NOT KIND TO MARRY, PASTOR SAYS

Earnest Soul One Who Can Laugh and Weep Best, Asserts Dr. Funk

"Two better Than One" was the subject for the morning sermon by H. C. Funk at the First Lutheran church yesterday. The text was taken from the First Book of Moses, "It is not good for man to be alone."

"Some one in a conversation with John Milton called his wife a rose. Milton, being blind, replied: 'I'm no judge of the flower, but what you say may be so for I feel the thorns every hour.'"

Many a man in entering upon the marriage state is determining whether he will have two heavens or two hells—one on earth and another in the other land.

"What you need, O man, is not a butterfly, not a giggling nonentity, not a mixture of artificial things that leave you in doubt as to where the humming ends and the woman begins, but an earnest soul, one that can laugh and weep, one who can talk to you about treasures above when your fortunes fail. After all, sincerity and devotion are the essential elements of a true womanhood."

Isn't Perfect Himself

"Say, sister, it is exceedingly interesting to watch some of these fellows that are looking for a wife. Why, she must be perfection itself, and she ought to be an angel. Well, what right has he to look for perfection in a woman? He is certainly far from being perfect. He'd make a nice companion for an angel, wouldn't he? There never was but one perfect man and he fell in the garden of Eden."

No, young men of bad habits never marry girls of their own sort. They demand wives whose characters are above suspicion. Moreover, we hold that young women are often to blame for not demanding higher ideals of men. They do not offer encouragement for true manhood."

"Take three young men: one a successful business man, another a well-to-do professional man, and the other a dude with nothing to do but put on airs and make himself attractive. Two to one 'she' will encourage the dude."

"Young women have it in their power to change all this. Why don't you demand the same things from him that he demands from you?"

'Perjury,' Powerful Film at Glendale

"Perjury," the William Fox special which created a tremendous sensation during its run in a Broadway, New York, theatre, opened here last night at the Glendale theatre. It is a gripping drama of acute human emotion, and held the audience spellbound to the end. Again and again, in the dim light of the theatre, handkerchiefs flashed white as William Farnum displayed the grief of Robert Moore over the sorrows of his family.

The famous screen star is seen first as a vigorous man, happily married, ambitious and successful. Suspicion and jealousy, born of a secret enemy's envy, bring a change, and then comes rage, followed by despair. Prison gates close upon Robert Moore for twenty years, following an unjust conviction of murder, and his wife and children are left to struggle alone in the world.

The last scenes show Robert, exonerated and pardoned at 65 years, old for his age, but with all bitterness and animosity eliminated in the crucible of long confinement, leaving a sweetness and gentleness of nature which are exquisitely pathetic.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR REVEALS HEALTH SECRET

Tells of Wonderful Remedy That Has Kept Him Fit for Thirty Years

The Civil War ended more than fifty years ago, and the veterans of that great conflict are rapidly passing. The soldiers of that period endured many hardships, were exposed to the elements and in many cases, were ill fed. These conditions led to chronic ailments of all kinds, such as rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, constipation, heart trouble and diseases of the kidneys and liver.

One veteran, Mr. Abram

Arnold, R. F. D. No. 2, Campbell, N. Y., now in his 77th year and hale and hearty, tells how he has kept himself in good health. He writes:

"I have made use of Dr. A. W. Chase's medicines for 25 or 30 years and during that time they have never failed to do all that is recommended of them. I am a veteran of the Civil War—almost 77 years old, and was through fifteen hard fought battles, but am still living with the help of Dr. A. W. Chase's Tonic Pills. I have a bad heart, and find these pills of wonderful benefit for this trouble. Anyone wishing further particulars may write me, and I will gladly reply, as I want people to know of this wonderful remedy."

You can buy Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies at all drug stores. To be sure of getting the genuine, see that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on each box. This is a trade mark for your protection against imitations. — Advertisement.

SPECIAL PROGRAM AT CHURCH FOR MOTHERS' DAY

Women Greatest Force In Building Up Any Nation,
Says Rev. E. E. Ford

"Mothers' Day" was observed
at all the services of the First Baptist church.

A short program had been arranged by Miss Beatrice Dossie, 360 Salem street for the opening of the Sunday school. Prayer was offered by "Grandma Burdick," and there was a recitation by Wayne Maxwell, 400 West Stocker street. Mrs. Park Arnold of 635
North Jackson street sang "My Mother" with her baby in her arms.

Mothers were the guests at twilight of the Young People's societies. Robert Ford sang "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me."
"We have many dedicated days in our country," declared Rev. E.
E. Ford during the morning sermon. "I would not take one single spray from the memory of great men and events. Yet unhesitatingly do I select the choicest forget-me-not to weave into the garland to place on the brow of Motherhood."

"Honor to whom honor is due!" I give it as my opinion that the mothers of men have been and are still the greatest force in the building of any nation.

"Make Life Worth Living"
"The greatest thing in the world is a human life and the greatest work in the world is the helpful touch upon that life. It is often asked if life is worth living. That life is most worth living that helps some other life to be worth living."

"We will never have better
laws, or better times, or better nations until we have better men and women. We shall have better men and women just as soon as we learn to co-operate with the Master Builder in the rearing of our boys and girls."

"The great need of the Christian world today is a return to the home life of former days. The evening lamp is the lighthouse guarding the safe harbors of the world. The way a boy ends his day at home is a prophecy of the way his life will end."

"Mothers are the world builders. The best crown of all is the crown of love placed on the brow of her boy by his mother."

GOOD HEALTH BIG NECESSITY FOR YOUNG FOLK

Children of Future Should Be Thought of Present,
Holds Rev. Crist

"Mothers' Day" was observed in a special sermon yesterday morning at the First Methodist church.
"Whether heredity or environment counts for the most is still being debated," remarked Dr. C.
M. Crist. "Much that is best as well as much that is worst comes by way of predisposition. A professor of eugenics was asked the best time to begin to train a child.
His reply was: 'Several generations before he is born.'"

"Mind, body and spirit are more or less affected by one's progenitors. One of the greatest incentives for good living is that children yet unborn will be influenced by our conduct."

"It is a good thing to be well born, not so much in reference to position or wealth, but to be born of good blood. When God blesses a boy most, he gives him a good mother."

"If so much depends upon the motherhood of the country, how fitting it is that we have come to observe Mothers' Day!"

"Religion of Health"
"The ideal mother has a healthy body. It is well that the church is preaching more about the religion

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Widen the Highways Now
Penn Politicians in Plight
Human Lives Mere Pawns
Straw Hat Day a Success

By Gil A. Cowan

EVERY motorist will agree that in this automobile age the state highways should be shouldered or widened.

That is the conclusion drawn after spending Sunday out on the open road on the "straight and narrow" path that is provided by magnificent bond issues.

And, while speaking about widening highways, now is the time for Glendale to act in paving San Fernando boulevard fully 60 feet wide all the way through town.

Of course, it will cost something, but, with Riverside Drive looming as another route into the San Fernando valley, Glendale and Burbank had better make inducements for the motor traveling public to come through these communities rather than see that traffic diverted.

The entire city should back the improvement of San Fernando boulevard, the bridging of Los Angeles river to Riverside Drive and make every other effort to attract the attention that Glendale deserves.

Old-time politicians in Pennsylvania are guessing today as to what the outcome of tomorrow's election will be. And, as usual, it is the eternal feminine, but they all it the "infernal woman's vote."

In other words, they do not know how the election will swing with suffrage at the helm of the ship of state's voting power. The registered women voters are expected to predominate at the polls. It is expected that the battle of ballots tomorrow will decide one of the most momentous factional fights ever waged in the Keystone state.

Gifford Pinchot, one-time Roosevelt Progressive, who is backed by the Curtis publications of Philadelphia, and Attorney General George E. Alter, representing the Grand Old Party organization, are the Republican gubernatorial candidates whose fate rests with the women.

If they can only keep down the women vote the Cameron-Quay-Penrose school frankly expects to out Alter over by rolling up majorities in the machine metropolitan areas of Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Here is an editorial worthy of reflection on the part of every person interested in the Genoa conference. It is reprinted from the Hollywood Daily Citizen:

Statistics of the death toll of the World War furnish food for thought in connection with the Genoa Conference.

A German military statistician states that the total of Germans killed during the war was 1,503,548 or at the rate of 46 for every hour of the 51 months, seven days from the beginning to the armistice.

In the 43 months Russia was in the war her losses in killed were 1,700,000 or at the rate of 54 men every hour.

The French loss in killed was 1,400,000 or at the rate of 37 every hour.

Now comes that thought that the Russian sacrifice meant nothing but misery to the Russians, but meant the salvation of the world from German domination.

Had that sacrifice not been made, France would have been overrun and completely conquered by the Germans.

It was because the Russians were laying down their lives by the thousands that the German forces were divided and France was able to cope with the enemy until help came.

Today France forgets, apparently, what this sacrifice meant to her, for at the Genoa conference she insists that she can give no consideration to Russia until Russia pledges to pay all the money that is owed either to the French nation or to French citizens.

Whatever we think of the Russian government, its officers or its policies, one cannot but reflect upon the great masses of Russian people who paid a terrible price for the welfare of the world.

Dollars ought not to count for everything in the appreciation of the world for such a sacrifice.

But for some reason or other the real character of the individuals that make up a nation does not seem to guide the statesmen who sit at conference tables.

If today, at the conference, Russia doesn't do just as the Allies would like to have her do, it would seem as though the greater concessions could very properly be made by the Allies.

The sacrifice of 1,700,000 people, which has gained Russia nothing but misery, but which meant the winning of the war by the Allies, ought to win for that nation concessions in consideration far beyond the point the other nations may think they ought to go.

There ought to be something other than mercenary and selfish motives guiding a conference of nations.

Straw hat day was a sure fire winner in Glendale.

On the thirteenth day of May, 1922, it turned hot.

Which gave little more variety to May weather than already experienced.

Cold, rain, little snow, winds, sunshine got all mixed up in a fortnight's time.

That's what makes life interesting.

HONOR IN SERVICE TO OTHER FOLK, SAYS PASTOR

Keep Doing Just What You Can, Is Suggestion by
Rev. J. C. Livingston

"Hysterical sobs over open coffin lids on the part of those who never stooped to kiss the living, have a mighty hollow sound."

"Hanging earlands over the dead body of mother by those who never sought to keep the curvature out of her back while living seems like a bit of irony."

Rev. J. C. Livingston made this statement yesterday morning at the Casa Verdugo Methodist church.

"It seems to me that we could take full half the pain, half the crying and half the need of unrequited toil out of the world if we would just keep doing what we can."

"One of the elect women to whom fell the distinguishing honor of being last at the cross and first at the tomb, seemed to have a way of doing things, even in the expression of her love, that brought reproach from some, but always approbation from the lips of the Man of Galilee."

They Live in Service

"I think that I have met both Martha and Mary in the home in Bethany. It was in a home where a precious one was lying close down by the gates of eternal day. Mary came early in the morning, soft of footstep, gentle in voice and manner. She stayed all the forenoon, and all the afternoon, and late into the night."

"Martha also served twice that day. Once in the forenoon, and once at the twilight. She carried savory preparations in a bowl—I don't know what they were—they were covered with a napkin."

"Martha only came as far as the back door. What she brought was received by the one who answered her quiet rap, and the question she asked concerning the condition of the sufferer."

"Then, slipping back to where 'she also served,' she renewed what seemed to her the most important job in the world. And I guess that it was. Certainly, if Martha had not served in that Bethany home it is doubtful if Mary would ever have served anywhere else."

"They both did what they could. And I don't think that Jesus knew which one He loved the better."

There are only two ways of raising one's self on the world, either by one's industry or by the weakness of others.—La Bruyere.

National Body Will Fight Radio Crooks

By GEORGE VAN SANDS

Radio Editor The Evening News

In the commercial history of this country there has never been any such nation-wide demand for a new invention like there has been for radio, and the result is that in the last few months quite a few unscrupulous dealers, realizing the opportunity to take advantage of the unsuspecting public, have entered the business, and quite a bit of more or less worthless apparatus has been put on the market.

Naturally such unprincipled dealers realize that to reap any harvest they must work quick, and, thanks to a national organization recently formed in New York, these fakirs will soon be driven out of business.

The organization that will spell "curtains" to these dealers of shady reputation is known as the National Radio Chamber of Commerce, and officers elected were such prominent radio manufacturers as Alex. Eisemann, of the Freed-Eisemann Radio corporation, makers of one of the best known lines of radio apparatus on the market, who has been elected president; Charles Keator, of the de Forest Radio Telephone & Telegraph company, first vice president, and a number of others of the most prominent and nationally known men connected with radio have been elected to office.

All responsible manufacturers will be invited to join, and the main purpose of this organization will be to protect the public from being separated from their money for wireless equipment that does not come up to a high standard. Radio being so new makes it so that the average citizen knows very little about it, and, consequently, is placed in a position where he has nothing to rely on except the name of the manufacturer of the equipment, or the dealer who sells it to him, and it will be the purpose of this organization to maintain the highest standards among its members, thereby assuring the public that any manufacturer or dealer bearing the endorsement of the National Radio Chamber of Commerce can be absolutely relied upon.

How quickly radio would get into disfavor if a man walks into a dealer, pays out a big lot of money for a wireless telephone, takes it home and installs it, and finds it is practically worthless. To prevent radio falling into disrepute in just this manner was the reason this organization has been formed, and it has the best wishes of radio fans throughout the country.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS
INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

ANTENNA RESISTANCE (RADIATION RESISTANCE)

In the case of a transmitting antenna the object is to create as much disturbance in the ether as possible, in order to transmit as far as possible with a given amount of energy in the antenna circuit. When waves are created in the ether energy in the antenna circuit is used up—that is, at least a portion of the electrical energy in the antenna is changed into wave energy. We want the waves to have as much power and energy as possible, and we therefore want to use as much of the electrical energy in the antenna as we can to produce this desired result. We have seen in previous considerations, however, that there is an effective resistance introduced into the antenna circuit whenever any energy is used up. When this energy is used to produce other waves the effective resistance is called "radiation resistance," since the energy put into the waves is radiated to a distance. This is a desirable loss in the antenna circuit, and, within certain limits, due to other considerations, than transmitting range, the radiation resistance is made purposely as high as possible. In order to do this the other sources of energy loss must be kept at a minimum.

It may be thought, off hand, that a receiving antenna never radiates any energy in the form of other waves. This is not true, however, since under certain conditions it can be made to reradiate energy received from passing waves. Reradiation, of course, is not the object of a receiving antenna, and when it takes place it results in an effective antenna resistance, which is not at all desirable.

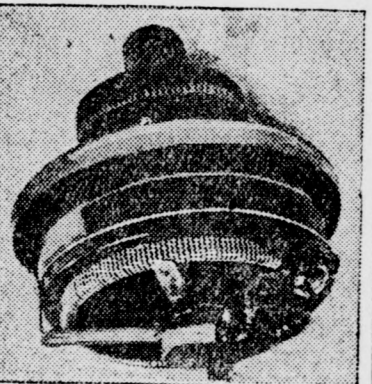

The fundamental wave length or natural frequency of an antenna is that which is had without any coil or actual condenser in series between the antenna and the ground connection. The addition of either increases the wave length and decreases the frequency of either increases the wave length to be received is too near this fundamental wave length, reradiation may occur. From this it may be seen that it is possible for a receiving antenna to be too long or too large.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN
RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP.

A RHEOSTAT WITH A VERNIER ATTACHMENT

A vernier adjustment on a filament rheostat is necessary whenever it is required to vary the filament current in extremely small steps. With the type illustrated the current may be varied by one-thousandth of an ampere.

The large milled knob is mounted upon a hollow shaft, at the opposite end of which is mounted the flat contactor. This allows of variation of the coiled resistance and provides the rough adjustment of filament current. The vernier attachment consists of a single turn of resistance wire wound about the bakelite form. The single turn resistance may be varied by turning the small milled knob, which is mounted on a shaft passing through the hollow shaft. The longer contactor, which is mounted on the inner shaft, makes contact with the single turn resistance and allows a very fine variation of filament current. The design and construction are such that when one ampere flows in the filament circuit one complete turn of the small vernier control knob changes that current one-tenth of an ampere.

The use of a vernier adjustment of filament current often makes unnecessary the use of a plate battery potentiometer when soft detector tubes are used. The critical adjustment is secured with the fine variation of filament current.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: I have a crystal set that received the broadcasting very nicely where I had it installed in Los Angeles before moving to Glendale, but it does not seem to get anything much other than telegraph signals at my new home in Verdugo Woodlands. Will you please tell me if a crystal set can get the music broadcasted from Los Angeles if installed close to the mountains in Verdugo Woodlands.—Mac.

Answer: No reason at all why your crystal set should not work perfectly and get the music very clear out in Verdugo Woodlands. You will, however, have to exercise a little more care and attention to your aerial here than you did in Los Angeles. Get it as high as possible, but do not feel that it has to overtop any close by hill; be sure and solder the joint where you attach the leading wire to the aerial. Try putting it up in one position and if it does not seem to work well, try putting it in a position at a right angle to the first position, and if your house happens to be located on a hill as many of them are out there, point the free end of the aerial up the hill. Will say in this regard that I personally have heard of several crystal receivers in operation in the same neighborhood where you live and worked perfectly, so don't get discouraged.

Question: Has the shortage on radio equipment been relieved at all under the conditions in that respect more favorable than they were two or three weeks ago, when it was practically impossible to purchase any apparatus.—C. K., Eagle Rock.

Answer: Yes, the shortage of a few weeks ago has been greatly relieved and quite a number of dealers right here in Glendale now have a representative showing of radio equipment, and are getting more in every day.

Question: Why is it that the Baldwin, and Brainerd, and perhaps one or two other makes of head phones are considered the best? Is it the fact that they are the best, and if so, does that mean that the other makes are worthless.—G. H., Glendale.

Answer: As I have tried to make clear a number of times, this column on radio that appears each day in The Evening News is run strictly as an interesting news feature for the benefit of our readers, and it has no connection with the sales propaganda of any manufacturer of radio equipment or dealers in radio supplies, here in Glendale, or elsewhere, and in all fairness to all of the different makes of radio supplies in Glendale who are handling different makes and types of apparatus, I must refrain from recommending any particular make of apparatus. The type head phones that you mention are very good phones and

PASTOR TELLS OF NEED OF PRAYER BY CHILDREN

Instruct Little Ones Early,
Urges Rev. Preston in His Sunday Sermon

"The word 'Mother' awakens in the human heart memories that are sweet and precious," declared Rev. Harley G. Preston yesterday morning in his sermon at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. "It is no wonder, therefore, that a special day has been set apart to commemorate the influence of mother. Into many hearts will come today sweet memories of the home life and love, the self-sacrifice, the sympathy, the inspiration of mother."

"Mothers' Day is national and international. It is for every creed, class, race and country. Social, fraternal, civil, military and religious organizations, official, professional and business classes are asked to pay homage to mothers on that day."

Teach Them to Pray

"The heathen mother takes her baby to the idol temples and teaches it to clasp its little hands before its forehead in the attitude of prayer long before it can utter a word."

"Mothers, why is it that so many children grow up without learning to pray? Mothers, who are not doing so, should get back to the good old custom of former days—that of teaching the little tots their prayers at mother's knee."

"Truly, if a mother be a Christian, hers is the touch that turns a life Godward."

CEMENT GOOD AS NEW

M. E. Mollett, formerly of California, who now is engaged in the sand and gravel business at 117 South Central avenue, Eagle Rock, points with pride to the first cement work ever installed in that city, some sixteen years ago, and it is standing as good as new.

I doubt if there are much better, but at the same time I think it only reasonable to presume that there are other head phones on the market that are just as good. I have seen and handled a great many different makes of head phones and there is hardly a day goes by now, but what I run across a head phone made of some concern that I never knew even existed and they are real good head phones, too. There is nothing much to a head phone, anyway, and if it would to the proper resistance it should produce the desired results.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. JOSEPH PILLIOD

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock this morning, Monday, May 15, 1922, in the Little Church of the Flowers under the direction of L. G. Scovren, for Mrs. Joseph Pilliod.

Mrs. Pilliod passed away Friday at her home, 1319 South Glendale avenue, at the age of 72. She has resided in Glendale and vicinity for the past three years.

MRS. MARTHA R. RANKIN

Mrs. Martha Rodgers Rankin, wife of Rev. Dr. J. R. Rankin, passed away Sunday afternoon, May 14, 1922, at the family residence, 444 West Lexington Drive, Glendale, California.

Mrs. Rankin, although failing in health for more than a year, was able to be about the home until just a few weeks prior to her passing. She was born at Portsmouth, Ohio, December 29, 1847, but when quite young she moved with her parents to Brady Bend, Pa., where she was reared to young womanhood. She was married to Josiah Reed Rankin on August 25, 1869, nearly fifty-three years ago. Five children were born of this union, two sons and three daughters. Besides her husband, she is survived by three children, David M. Rankin of Long Beach, Calif.; Sallie Louise Rankin and Alwilda Rankin Harmon at home.

Mrs. Rankin had a wide circle of friends in western New York and Pennsylvania where she and many children were associated for many years in church work. Dr. Rankin served as pastor of various Methodist Episcopal churches for over twenty-five years while a member of the Erie, Pa., conference. In 1912 he transferred to the Detroit, Mich., conference and served a three-year pastorate at Houghton. In 1915 Dr. Rankin retired from the active ministry and with Mrs. Rankin and one daughter came to southern California where they have lived at Long Beach, Los Angeles and Glendale for the past seven years.

The service for Mrs. Rankin will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn cemetery on Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Interment at a later date will be made at the former home, Butler, Pa.

HIS CAR IS BORROWED

Have you noticed lately a five-passenger Buick touring car with license plate 460712? J. E. Wimmer of 122 West Chestnut street is hopeful that the car, which was "borrowed" Friday night from the front of the Elks' club, will be recovered today. His phone number is Glendale 2213-J. Two boys about 16 years old were seen to drive off in it and it is thought that they went off for a week-end trip. He thinks that they may have returned to school today and left it stalled somewhere on the outskirts of Glendale.

LAST SERVICES AT CHURCH HOME HELD SUNDAY

More Money Subscribed to Congregational Building
Fund at Meeting

Final services were held yesterday morning in the present Congregational church and an additional $1505 was subscribed to the fund for the construction of the new church.

"The Cost of the Church Through the Ages" was the theme of the sermon which was brief on account of the temperature.

"The church has always cost the world a great deal," declared Rev. C. M. Calderwood. "The Christian church began in the sacrifice of Jesus Christ Himself and the martyrdom of Stephen and other apostles. Then followed the sacrifice of the early Christians—a hundred thousand of them. Has the church been worth it? Have the results been worth the cost?"

"Civilization is one of the results. All our best institutions have been mothered by the church. We are under obligations to the Roman Catholic church for preserving for us the scriptures and the love and reverence for the church during the dark ages. The church has removed kings from their thrones, banished tyranny and driven superstition from the minds of the ignorant."

Worth More Than Cost

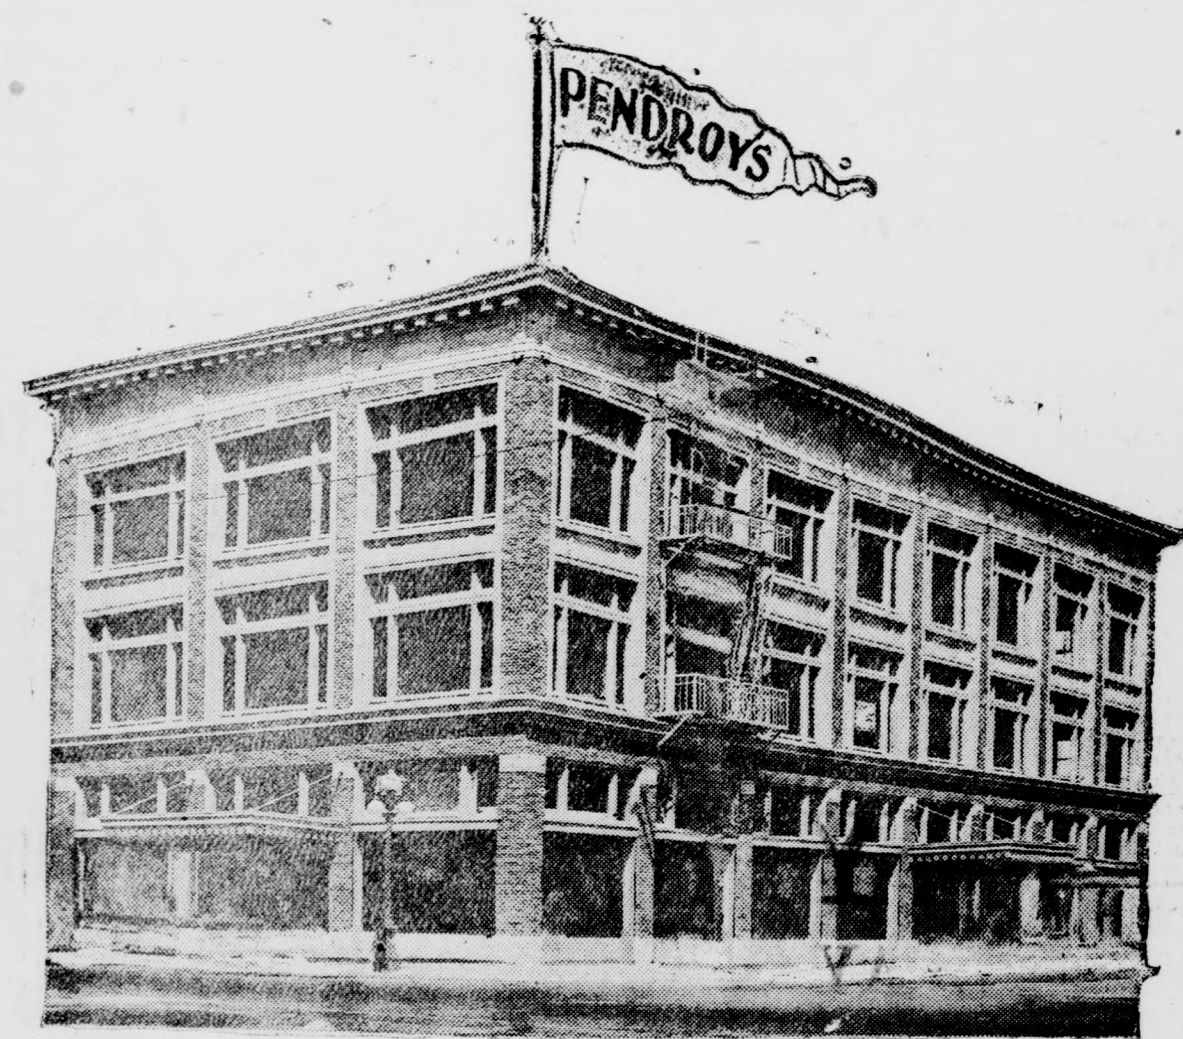

"This particular church has cost a lot during a few years. It has cost sacrifice, labor and heartaches. Have the results been worth it? People have been led to Christ. Their ideals have been uplifted and they have been given higher aspirations. No one will deny that the results have been worth more than the cost."

"The new church is going to cost a lot of money, a lot of work and a lot of sacrifice, too. Can we safely assume that the results are going to be worth all it will cost? Assuredly, children and young people will be taught the Christian life and good will be done."

"You can't measure eternal values in terms of material things." Announcement was made that the midweek prayer meeting Wednesday night will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Van Oven, 317 West Maple street. Next Sunday morning Sunday school will convene at 9:45 and church at 11 o'clock in the new Odd Fellows' hall.

for the wonderful welcome accorded the Opening of their new store.

Our fondest expectations were more than realized when with the opening of our doors to the people of Glendale and surrounding territory the wonderful flow of eager people crowded the three floors of our new store, expressing their appreciation at every turn. It was a wonderful tribute to our hard work in opening at this time.

We take this space to express our gratitude for the grand reception accorded us and we will do our very best to, in every way, live up to the high standard the people of this community expect of us.

We Thank You Sincerely

We wish to thank each and every sender of the beautiful floral tributes which went so far to make this opening a success. The abundance of these wonderful flowers entirely surprised us and we appreciate these many tokens of friendship more than we can really express in words.

To our many loyal assistants who remembered us with such a wonderful floral piece, we are deeply grateful. This was sent Saturday night to the bedside of our general merchandise manager, Mr. Swearingen, who, we are glad to say, is on the road to recovery.

Saving for Education

"I want my children to be well educated."

How many parents express this desire, yet how few prepare to make it a reality? Education in itself costs very little—the item of support while studying is the serious problem.

If children are properly trained they will be anxious for learning and will work to attain it. Therefore, why not form a partnership early with your children—agreeing to contribute so much each month, provided a certain sum is earned by them and put into an "Educational Fund."

Easy household tasks, running errands, light work in the garden—pay your children for doing these things, and they will develop the invaluable twin habits of industry and thrift.

Let us talk it over with you.

LOS ANGELES CLUB STANDS FIRST AS FLAG WINNER

Dusty Documents of Past Are Brought Out, Find Facts on Pennants

By HOWARD McGILLIS

Sporting Editor The Evening News

In going over the Pacific coast league records since its organization in 1903, it is seen that Los Angeles has won more pennants than any other team. A tie for first honors, which was established in 1916 between the Angels and the Portland Beavers, was broken last year when "Red" Killefer's so-called "nice old gentlemen" nosed out four other clubs during the last week of the season. The present mark of the Seraphs stands at six pennants.

Portland, as stated before, is second in the matter of nabbing the well-known bacon with five. Every one of Portland's winning teams was piloted by Walter McCreddie, grizzled veteran of the circuit who is this year performing in the managerial role for the Seattle Swashes. The last victory for the Ducks was back in 1914, when McCreddie led his charges to the tape in first place for the fourth time in five years.

Vernon, thanks to the efforts of Bill Essick, is tied for third place with San Francisco, each having won a trio of pennant races. The Tigers' three victories came in three successive years, Essick breaking the ice in 1918. Prior to that time the Vernon teams had always been a contender for honors.

Tacoma Takes Two Pennants

Tacoma, being entered in the league during the first few years of operation, stands next in order with two pennants, taken in 1904 and 1905, respectively. The one remaining year was productive of a championship team in Oakland, the Acorns being led to first place in 1912 by the late "Bud" Sharpe, who will be remembered as a hustling first baseman.

No pennant has yet been flung to the breezes from ball parks in Sacramento, Seattle or Salt Lake City, although each has been a close contender for pennant honors on several occasions. Last year the Senators finished but a game and a half below the Angels, while the Seattle Indians were but three and a half cents tests from first place. In 1915 the Salt Lake club, under the management of Ernie Johnson, came dangerously near beating Vernon out during the closing weeks of play. They were doped to run away with first place next year, but after being wrecked in an indirect manner by the famous Chicago White Sox scandal they were forced to worry along in the second division. Following the banishment from the game of the notorious Chicago stars, Charles Comiskey and the disastrous "wet blanket" to the Salt Lake squad by purchasing three of the four men of the so-called invincible infield of 1919, including the manager.

Here's List of Winners

Following is a list of the various pennant winners of the Coast league from 1903 to 1921, inclusive:

Morvich Proves He Has Lots of Class

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15.—The great colt Norwich, Block stable, silenced the scoffers, the doubters and the pessimists when he went in, winning a Kentucky derby with a length and a half to spare, Saturday, in the fast time of 2:04 3/5.

Struggling gamely in the rear came E. R. Bradley's Bet Mosie, which flashed out of the rut in the final quarter, showing a surprising turn of speed coming down the stretch and then proceeded to gain no more when the wonderful Block thoroughbred put in his final flicks through the last furlong.

G. F. Baker's John Finn managed to head My Play, of the Lexington stables, for third place. In a hectic finish the rest of the field, including Startle, Deadlock, Legerman, By Gosh, Surf Rider and Busy American were up there fighting in a grilling finish, but it got them nothing.

Morvich was the class of the field first, the first to the last.

The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK—"De Vorme battering for Baker."

The flannel-mouthed announcer stood near the home plate at the Polo Grounds some days ago and bawled this bit of information at the startled stands.

In a daze the crowd managed to comprehend that Al De Vorme, little more than a second-string catcher, was being sent in to hit for Frank Baker, the so-called "home-run king" of ten years ago.

It is from such as this that baseball epitaphs are written. The kindly souls of the press box treated the matter lightly. They said that Miller Huggins was attempting strategy. All very good, if taken as ad lib comedy. They didn't attempt any strategy with Baker as late as two years ago. They merely handed him a bat and requested him to hit a strategic home run out of the park.

Some others pointed to the fact that Baker was being hit because he was facing left-hand pitching. The same being furnished by one Heimach, of the Athletics. But they didn't take him out eleven years ago when he sallied forth to meet Rube Marquard in a world's series pinch. To Marquard's everlasting annoyance and regret.

No, they didn't do that sort of thing with Frank Baker in those days. He was the most feared

SPORTS CHATTER

The acceptance of the javelin throw of 197 feet 1 inch by the Pacific association branch of the A. A. U. as a local district record—also a new Pacific coast record—is ample proof of the fact that athletes of this country have at last mastered the art of throwing the spear.

The mark in question was made two weeks ago by Flint Hanner, captain of the Stanford university team and is only four and one-quarter inches short of the American record held by J. C. Lincoln of New York Athletic club made September, 1920.

In practice Hanner has several times bettered two hundred feet in his throw, his best having been 207 feet which is at least getting within calling distance of the world record of 219 feet, 1 1/2 inches by J. Myrha of Finland.

The evolution of the javelin record in this country is an interesting series of steps. The first record was made June 6, 1908, when Platt Adams, N. Y. A. C. won the Olympic game trials at Philadelphia. His throw on that occasion was 131 feet 6 inches and this is the original record in this country. In 1909 the A. A. U. first listed the event as an official championship and since then the ability of the men has improved by leaps and bounds. In that year Grailley Gish of the Seattle A. C. at the National meet at Seattle, August 13 and 14 won the junior title with 144 feet, thus breaking Platt Adams' mark. The next day Gish failed to reach his record in the senior title and the late Ralph Rose won the first javelin senior title with 141 feet 7 inches. A week later in San Francisco Joe Horner of the Chicago A. A. in a meet in San Francisco won the event, breaking Gish's record with 149 feet, and two months later Ollie Snedigar of the S. F. Olympic club in the district championships again broke the record with 160 feet, 10 1/2 inches.

From that time to date, javelin throwers have become more numerous and a natural increase in ability has been the result. It was in 1914 that the high school boy, Harry Liversedge, made his phenomenal throw of 184 feet, 9 1/2 inches, that stood for two years, until George Bronder of N. Y. A. C. broke it with 190 feet, 6 inches, and this mark stood for four years. The American javelin throwers in the last Olympic game, Hanner being one of them and Lincoln, N. Y. A. C. being another, made a close study of the methods used by the European stars. The result has been that Lincoln raised the American mark to 197 feet, 5 1/2 inches and now Hanner is within a few inches of the mark and undoubtedly has broken it by more than five feet. The evolution of the record is best shown in the following table of performance:

DR. J. A. RAMSEY IS SPEAKER AT CONFERENCE

'Knowing God' Is Subject of Address at Presbyterian Church on Sunday

The Presbyterian church was crowded yesterday by those in attendance at the closing sessions of the Victorious Life Conference.

"Knowing God" was the topic at the evening service of Dr. J. A. Ramsey. He reminded the audience that Christ came to make us know God and that when we find Him we find ourselves.

"You must see Him as He truly is," remarked Dr. Ramsey. "Then you can forever rest in Him. It is Satan that wants you to think of Him as a terrible master. But Christ has everlastingly taken sin out of our way."

Rev. Robert C. McQuilkin spoke at the morning service concerning his thoughts about the words, "Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature."

"This is a time and place for a close, personal interview with Jesus Christ," he declared. "His love is to separate us from sin and unrighteousness. He loves us in spite of knowing all that is in us. Just Normal Life

"The victorious life is just the normal Christian life as Christ means it to be lived. It is a life that has laid all, including all responsibilities and anxieties on the Lord. Christians who say they fully believe in the whole of God's word and then disbelieve by holding to their own old anxieties, terribly dishonor their Lord. The only barrier between you and the whole of God's mercy is the one you yourself put up. He is ready to do all for you."

"The Return of the Lord and Its Relation to Everyday Living" was the afternoon topic of Dr. Ramsey who said in part: "We know that He is to come again because He plainly said so while here and afterwards reaffirmed it over and over through the inspired writers of the epistles. He will come before any universal peace; there can be none otherwise."

"To be found ashamed, unprepared at Christ's coming will be the greatest pain a Christian can know. The solemn warnings of God's word about this have been terribly unheeded. When He comes, He will gather all His own for their rewards."

A wise man who does not assist with his counsel, a rich man with his charity and a poor man with his labor, are perfect nuisances in a commonwealth.—Dean Swift.

RECOVERS HEALTH AT 70 FROM INTERNAL BATHS
Mrs. L. M. Wadlia, 2043 National Ave., San Diego, Cal., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:
"Within the last month have had wonderful results, and all indigestion has nearly subsided. I could hardly expect it a woman over seventy to receive benefit from a trouble of long standing as quickly as a younger person. Money could not buy my 'J. B. L. Cascade,' if I could not get an other."

It is difficult to believe how many serious troubles, internal bathing will relieve, until you realize that Physicians agree that 35% of human ailments are caused by accumulated waste in the lower intestine. The "J. B. L. Cascade," the scientific method of internal bathing, removes in a perfectly natural way, all poisonous waste, and has been so successful in promoting health that over half a million intelligent Americans are now using it regularly.

ROBERTS & ECHOLS

PARENTS SEE HOW INTERMEDIATES ARE TAUGHT

Annual Night School Session
Featured by Marmalade,
Cookies and Program

The Glendale Intermediate school held its annual "night school" session, for the benefit of the fathers and mothers of the 550 boys and girls who spend their week-days there on last Friday.

Three periods of school work were demonstrated, including playground activities and the school assemblies.

At 6:45 the first bell rang and the students, followed by a stream of parents and friends, reported to their class rooms for roll call. The first period followed, the seventh grade having its physical training period and staging a baseball game and a drill and May-pole dance for the entertainment of the guests. The eighth grade held its regular recitations during that time, the most popular room being the domestic science department, where the girls, under the direction of Miss L. M. Woodredge, baked marmalade cookies and served them to the visitors hot from the oven.

Boys Also at Work

In the manual training rooms, hammers, saws, and planes were piled with enough force to build several bungalows, the boys being eager to show how skillful they have grown under Mr. Mansell's training.

The second period the seventh grade held its assembly, Miss Noble presiding, and presented a very nice program. A drill by the girls, "Mary and Her Flower Garden," directed by Miss Helen Payne, a flag drill by the boys, directed by Miss Gladys Sha, and a whistling solo by Helen White and a song, "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground," with Preston Hanning as the soloist.

Program Is Pleasing

The eighth grade assembly demonstrated splendid work in the English and Spanish departments, when the students gave short addresses. Music was furnished by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Elsa Brennehan and a clever conception of the witches' scene from Macbeth was staged under the direction of the eighth grade class teachers. The program closed with the flag salute. Altogether it was a very pleasing program of events.

blue, was displayed in the other main window. Some lovely drapes of silk and georgette gave color to the picture and the countless dainty bags, fans, handkerchiefs, parasols, beads, and everything else that is needed to make a perfect toilette were arranged about the central figure.

The first floor is devoted to yardage, gloves, notions, and in the rear is the shoe department. The dark mahogany finish offsets the light hardwood of the floor. Inverted lights throw an even tone over the whole and in honor of the opening giant wreaths of wistaria and roses made a spring bower of the impressive department. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Pendroy and associates received their guests at the big main entrance on Brand boulevard, and felt more than repaid for their labors when the dresses and hats were cries of admiration that voiced the applause of their future patrons.

Music and Favors

The Shrine orchestra furnished music for the main floor, and red and white carnations were presented to the visitors as favors.

The elevator worked overtime, but even then could not accommodate the crowd and the roomy staircase was crowded all evening with the eager guests.

The second floor appealed to the heart of every woman, for there the dresses and hats were displayed. The long room, with its soft gray finish heavy taupe carpet, and rose velvet drapes, gives the appearance of a great drawing room. That is because the management does not hang all the pretty garments out to the street, but keeps them carefully hung away in airy closets that run the full length of the room. Nothing is there to obstruct the view from one end of the department to the other. Comfortable easy chairs are found here and there so that madam can rest while she makes her selections.

The millinery department has a corner of its own. And pretty bonnets displayed are all exclusive. Straws, silk sport hats and braid picture models are to be found there in abundance.

For Children, Too

The kiddies can be completely outfitted at Pendroy's, too. Little suits and dresses, overcoats, and the most adorable little hats and bonnets for the little lady were on display Saturday night. Dotted Swiss and organdie models predominating in the little summer frocks.

The gift shop where everything for baby is kept, was the most attractive display on the second floor. The layette room, with its wee beds and bassinets, all ready to receive the tiny person, and shelf upon shelf and drawer upon drawer loaded with the minute garments will be a joy to the mothers of Glendale. The uniformed nurse in charge said that there was absolutely nothing a baby might need that could not be produced there on a moment's notice.

Of course the "French room" was the mecca for most of the women visitors. Only one gown was on display there, a fragile thing made of rose and gray tulle, with a silver lace bodice and French flowers forming the girdle. Rows upon rows of wonderful gowns could be glimpsed behind the glass of the cases, and the famous "Betty Wales" name was whispered by those who had been told that Pendroy's is to have the exclusive agency for that firm.

Three-Piece Suit

"The three-piece suit is the thing," or so fashion dictates this spring, and the early summer models seem to show that it is the ideal thing for summer wear, too. Several very smart color combinations were on display showing how cleverly these little costumes can be changed, one garment easily taking the place of two or three.

A striking white Canton, with gay wheels of embroidery, that is a copy of a French model worn in "Princess Pat," was on display, and one or two fluffy organdies. One of the things Pendroy's is specializing in this season will be white graduation frocks. These are in organdie, Canton and georgette, and every one is an exclusive model.

An attractive array of summer blouses were glimpsed. Those were of almost every color imaginable. When the question of the popular shades for summer wear, Mrs. Pendroy said:

"Of course, red has been predominating, and periwinkle is certainly the newest color, but I have said all along that this is to be a 'rainbow' season." The sports suits and wraps show every color and every combination.

The art department on the third floor displayed lovely home furnishings. Floor lamps, rugs, pillows and draperies in variety that can hardly be equaled in any near by city. Surely Glendaleans will everything in Glendale," when they see that they can get everything in their own city.

Modern Devices

All the most modern devices have been installed in the new store. The neat business offices on the third floor are in direct touch with every department in the building. The tube system of the cashing will be used, the eleva-

Plenty of Action In Business Lines Saturday Night

"Glendale's greatest Saturday night."

That is the consensus of opinion among merchants whose places of business were congested with customers until the usual closing hour of 9 o'clock.

The town turned out for the opening of Pendroy's—and they stopped and shopped in most of their stores.

It was a great lesson in the "Trade at Home" campaign.

It kept the traffic officer at Brand and Broadway until after 8 o'clock.

It filled the theatres, rushed the soda fountains and what not.

It was "Main Street" in action.

Let's go, Glendale!

tor will save the shopper many steps, and innumerable small things that are appreciated by the sales force are in place.

The Harvard street entrance was used as an exit by most of the visitors, who then enjoyed the display in the side windows. Here they found a black and white group that featured the silk three piece suits trimmed in monkey fur and Krimmer. A sports window showed golf suits, and all styles of sport shoes and oxfords, and an entrancing pink blouse in a gay Easteregg design.

Shoes for Summer

Summer shoes were shown with the widest possible variety to select from. Strap slippers, black satin sandals, oxfords and all manner of dainty hose, and brightly shining buckles for dancing slippers. The children's shoes were on display, too, even to wee oxfords and brogans.

The opening of Pendroy's was much like an enormous reception. Glendale was out in its holiday spirit and seemed to feel that the affair was the forerunner of a newer and greater Glendale; and while some stopped to tell about the few short years that have elapsed since a small frame cottage was the principal building in the block, others were visioning the still bigger things that are to come.

For the beautiful store belongs in Glendale, where fine things are appreciated and where there is an ever-increasing demand for the very best.

'Beauty's Worth' at T. D. L. Last Times

"As good be out of the world as out of the fashion," warned Colley Cibber a year ago. The truth of this is amply borne out in "Beauty's Worth," the newest Metropolitan production starring Marion Davies, at the T. D. & L. theatre today. In this Paramount picture, directed by Robert G. Vignola, the star has the role of a quiet, shy Quakeress whose beauty is obscured by her old-fashioned and severe garb. It is a noted artist who teaches her how to dress and how to win men's hearts.

Charles Chaplin's latest comedy release, "Pay Day," which is being distributed as a First National attraction, opens a run at the T. D. & L. theatre tomorrow. Advance notices tend to the belief that this vehicle will rank among the best productions the star comedian has ever offered.

Edna Purviance, the star's brother Sydney, who not so long ago blossomed out as a star himself; Mack Swain, who was with Chaplin in "The Idle Class"; Phyllis Allen, Henry Bergman, Loyal Underwood, John Rand and Allen Garcia aid the star's efforts.

Royal Cleaners Are Shown at Newton's

Royal electric vacuum cleaners provided a sideshow for the crowds attending the Pendroy Department store opening Saturday night.

The J. A. Newton Electric company made good use of their display window in the Citizens' building, adjoining the new new store. G. W. Rethschult, representing Listenwaller & Gough of Los Angeles, Southern California distributors for this widely advertised line, made a personal demonstration of the effective work done by the "all air" cleaner.

Strings, paper, rice, talcum powder—everything except silver dollars—went into the maw of the machine, conclusively proving the Royal will do all claimed in the way of cleaning.

FLOOD DERAILED TRAIN

WACO, Texas, May 15. The high waters of Waco creek caused by a torrential downpour of rain early today, derailed the San Antonio-Dallas express of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad near this city. The baggage car, combination coach, chair car and one sleeper left the rails and toppled over on their sides.

Mrs. Sterling C. Robertson, San Antonio, was seriously injured. Many others sustained minor injuries. A special train left here to bring the passengers and injured to this city.

CHICKENS APLENTY IN SAN FERNANDO VALLEY SOON

Weeks Syndicate, Palo Alto, Buys Big Ranches; Other Items of Interest

The Weeks Syndicate of Palo Alto, which is reported to have purchased the 800-acre tract on Ventura boulevard, near Chalk Hill for a large poultry settlement, has also closed a deal for the purchase of the Jenal 160-acre ranch between Marian and Owensmouth. The first development of the company, it is stated, will be made on the latter tract. Negotiations are pending for the purchase of other lands in the Owensmouth district.

Van Nuy's Makes Hit

Van Nuy, with its great diversity of agricultural, horticultural, dairying and poultry industries made a great impression on the farm bureau delegates from all parts of the state, who were there last week with the Annual Farm Bureau Travel Conference, on a tour of the state. There were one hundred and eighty-four in the party, which left Berkeley May 3, in 45 automobiles, and finished the trip May 11 at San Diego.

New Catholic Church

The Catholics of the Upper San Fernando valley will soon begin the construction of a neat bungalow church building on Sherman Way near Topanga avenue, according to Rev. A. J. Hutchinson, who has just received the plans from the architect. The plans call for an auditorium 40x75 feet with large front door and a small side door on either side near the rear.

Band for San Fernando

The Community Band is to be saved to San Fernando, according to information gleaned from the special committee, Messrs. Milan, Payne and Rogers, named by the band to pass among the business institutions and ascertain their will in the matter. Practically every merchant pledged financial support.

Organizing in Burbank

A. C. Walgamott of Glendale is organizing a band in Burbank to be known as the Pacific Boys. Forty players are sought for a summer season. He also is interesting boys from other valley towns in the idea as it will take considerable training to qualify for the organization.

S. N. Browns Moving to Their New Home

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Brown have sold their home at 409 South Glendale avenue to Joseph Psenner of 218 North Central avenue, who is taking immediate possession. The Browns are moving to their newly built house at 637 Salem street. They leave Wednesday of this week to attend the conference of the Seventh-day Adventist church at San Francisco and will not be home for three weeks.
